

SAET Scholarship Program

APPLICATION

The Florida A&M University (FAMU) School of Architecture & Engineering Technology (SAET) is receiving applications for scholarship awards to be disbursed for the upcoming academic year. The scholarships are competitive and contingent upon public and private funding sources. The SAET seeks applications from all qualified undergraduate architecture, construction, and electronics majors. The Scholarship Committee will review applications and recommend awards. If approved, recommendations will be forwarded to the Dean of the SAET for final processing. Awards are distributed from the FAMU Office of Student Accounts. All applicants who are citizens of the United States or eligible non-citizens are required to apply for financial aid through the Office of Financial Aid at Florida A&M University. International students cannot apply for financial aid but are eligible to receive scholarship awards through this program. Interested students must apply annually for these awards. Qualified students from Latin America or the Caribbean are also encouraged to apply for the Latin & Caribbean (LAC) Scholarship. Check the SAET website for additional information.
